FENIAN OPERATIONS.

Special Officer Shot.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Special officer John Gillon was shot in Chinatown by a highbinder this afternoon and killed. Joseph Cowell was shot and badly wounded, and a third party, whose name is yet unknown, was shot in the leg. The shooting occurred about 1 o'clock at the corner of Pacific and Stockton streets and was done by Chee Sing Jan. The Chinaman says he was attacked by boys, who pelted him with rocks, and that he fired into them and wounded the others by chance.

Their Revival Suspected in Ireland.

THE EMBLEM OF TREASON.

O'Brien Says Ireland Stands Again United.

Special Officer Shot and Killed in San Francisco.

The Emblem of Treason.

ALBANY (N. Y.), Nov. 7.—General Palmer, Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., has just made public an order, in which he says his attention was called to the fact that comrades wearing the badge and uniform of the G. A. R. participated in the recent demonstrations where the Confederate flag was carried and displayed. He continues: "One of the grandest principles of our organization is to teach the rising generation loyalty to country and fidelity to duty. Union soldiers have repeatedly said to the soldiers of the South: 'We have no desire to arouse sectional animosities or passions engendered by war. Give us loyalty, and in return we will give you fraternity. You have demonstrated your fraternity on a number of occasions, but we comrades, joined in recent ceremonies, honor the patriotic journalist and philanthropist. They found there fraternity confounded with the emblem of treason, which is evidence to you that he still lurks in the hearts of a few a desire to display that flag to the ears of the young generation of the South to rebellion.'

"A comrade wearing the badge or uniform of the order participating in any demonstration, whether the rebel flag is displayed, violates his obligation and brings disgrace upon the order of which he is a member. While the Commander-in-Chief has neither the right nor disposition to interfere with the individual rights or privileges of members of the order, he has assumed the obligation to protect it against any and all acts that will bring reproach upon its good name. With these words of admonition, I have sufficient confidence in your honor and fidelity to the principles of the order to feel that there will be no further participation in any demonstration where the emblem of treason is carried or displayed."

Danna's Bond Reduced.

By Associated Press. LACEY, Nov. 7.—Comptroller Lacey said this morning, concerning the published report from Washington, purporting to be information obtained at the Comptroller's office, that he knew nothing whatever concerning any national bank in Boston being in any trouble. The run at the Five-cent Savings Bank is ended. Thomas Danna's bond has been reduced to $40,000 and the bondsmen secured.

Examiner Ever and the majority of the Clearing House Committee say they know of no financial trouble in Boston outside of the Maverick Bank, and there is no examination in progress of any institution other than the Maverick, by the Comptroller, Examiner and Committee.

Fenian Operations Suspected.

By Cable and Associated Press. DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—The police of this city and other parts of Ireland, England and Scotland received information as to the probable influx into Great Britain of members of the Irish party of action in America. American detectives are in the employ of the British police authorities stationed at Queenstown and elsewhere, with instructions to carefully watch every incoming Atlantic steamer from America's ports. An addition to the police force has been made at every port in Ireland, and the prominent Fenianites are being steadily shadowed. In other words the revival of Fenian operations is suspected.

Ireland United.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Dr. Thomas A. Emmett, President of the Irish National League, to-day received the following cablegram from O'Brien and Davitt, at Cork:

"Cork returned Flavin by glorious majority over the fanatics and orangemen combined. Ireland stands again united."

Attempted Suicide.

By Cable and Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Signed Summerfield and his son Felix, both partners in the banking house of Friedlander & Summerfield, attempted to commit suicide to-day. Both are seriously wounded. Important disclosures are anticipated.

A Big Scheme.

By Associated Press. S. PAUL, Nov. 7.—The Edenero land syndicate, better known as the barley syndicate of Chicago, has succeeded in securing 250,000 acres of land in North Dakota, on which it is proposed to place German farmers to raise barley for malt purposes. The crops will be bought by the company and shipped to all points where there is a demand for barley for brewing purposes.

Bruer's Case Continued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—When the matter of hearing the argument on the demurrer to the indictment against Elwood Bruner was called this morning, Judge Wallace said that as he had been served with a writ of prohibition from the Supreme Court, the case would be continued until further notice.

Grain Market.

Still Quiet in Brazil.

By Cable and Associated Press.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 7.—All is quiet here to-day, and the state of seige is not rigorously enforced. Business is proceeding as usual. Similar reports are received from the provinces. President da Fonseca's illness alone continues a source of danger.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—This story of Brazil affairs comes to the morning papers through its Valp. raso correspondent. News was received here to-day from Rio Janeiro that President Fonseca held a long conference with Duro Preto and Jo. Quin Nabuco. They are both prominent Imperialists, and this has given rise to the hope among the supporters of the old regime of Dom Pedro that he will be requested to return to Brazil and take the throne. In case of his declining the offer, the story goes, that the throne will be offered to the husband of Dom Pedro's daughter. These stories are merely rumors however. The President publicly promises a constitutional form of government. There are also unconfirmed stories of outbreaks in the various provinces.

The Argentine authorities were a good deal stirred up when the news of the trouble reached Buenos Ayres.

Troops were at once hurried to the frontier between the Argentine Republic and the Brazilian provinces so as to preserve order in case the Brazilians attempted to enter the Argentine territory, and also to prevent any attempt to violate the neutrality law.

Six Indictments.

By Associated Press.

ST. JOSE (Mo.), Nov. 7.—The United States Grand Jury which has been investigating the dealings of the Howell Lumber Company, which failed several months ago, returned six indictments against S. B. Howell and George W. Howell. The indictments charge the Howells with having effected arrangements with W. D. Mott and Edward Tibbets, both of Atchison, agent and weighmaster respectively for the Rock Island road, whereby they were able to get the difference in the cost of lumber, whereby they were able to sell below all competition. It charges that the Howells' action is in direct violation of the provisions of the interstate commerce law, and warrants were issued for their arrests.

The Emblem of Treason.

ALBANY (N. Y.), Nov. 7.—General Palmer, Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., has just made public an order, in which he says his attention was called to the fact that comrades wearing the badge and uniform of the G. A. Special Officer Shot.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Special Officer John Gillon was shot in Chinatown by a highbinder this afternoon and killed. Joseph Cowell was shot and badly wounded, and a third party, whose name is yet unknown, was shot in the leg. The shooting occurred about 1 o'clock at the corner of Pacific and Stockton streets and was done by Chee Sing Jan. The Chinaman says he was attacked by bays, who pelted him with rocks, and that he fired into them and wounded the others by chance.

Young Bacigalupi, who assisted in the capture, said: "I was coming down Union street, and when I neared Stockton I saw a Chinaman running with a gun in his hand, followed by a big mob of people. Ed. Carasco and myself were in the lead. Suddenly he turned and fired a shot at us, but missed. The crowd increased and everybody was excited. They cried: 'Lynch him; lynch him' We got near enough to grab him just as he was turning into Chinatown. Carasco carried his overcoat on his arm, and when he got near enough he threw it over the Chinaman's head, throwing him to the ground; while he held the Chinaman in this position he fired another shot with his gun which passed through the shoulder of the overcoat. I grabbed the pistol just as he was trying to shoot me and we held him until the officers came up." Carasco tells the same story. Fully a thousand people were pursuing him.

At the receiving hospital an interpreter succeeded in getting the excited Chinaman's story. He said: "They have taken all my money which I earned at Sacramento. I came along the street by the b-y; as soon as I got by the corner some boys threw rocks at me, and kept throwing a long time when I got mad and talked Chinese to them; they still threw rocks all the time and then I drew my pistol; I did not know any man was an officer, for I do not understand white man's talk; I have been working at Sacramento; I had all my money in my pocket; I did not know why the men threw rocks, because I did not know them or do anything to them."

The wound on Chee Jan's head is not very serious; the bullet struck on the right side of the skull above the ear and glanced upward, inflicting a lacerated wound about three inches long.

The Train Wreckers.

AUBURN (Cal.), Nov. 7.—The train wrecking case was resumed this morning, the first witness being Sheriff Stanley of Sacramento county. He stated that the Roberts boys were brought to Sacramento by Constable Dyer and Officer True. He knew of no commitment. Special Officer True testified that Al Roberts gave as his reason for suspecting his brother, that they were always planning and designed him away.

Jeff said he did not get over to the scene of the wreck till about 9 o'clock. He said it was not his habit to seek out any excitement. The two brothers were brought together and Al accused Jeff of the crime. He said he had seen Jeff and Joe Campbell and the Indians plotting together. Jeff said it was a lie. The witness stepped up to Al near the scene of the wreck and asked: "Who was with you when you committed this crime?" He started crying and said: "My God, must I give my brother away?" When asked who else was there, he stated Joe Campbell, John Roberts and the Indians.

Nearly all the forenoon was spent by the attorneys for the defense in cross examining Officer True.

Mrs. McDaniel of San Jose, a passenger on the steamer Santa Cruz, testified as to her treatment at the time. She was not sure she recognized Al Roberts. Al tells her that he restored her scarf pin. Recess.

To Remedy an Evil.

By Associated Press.
DENVER, Nov. 7.—For the purpose of remedying the evil now existing in the Postoffice Department regarding promotion and pay of those entering the service, under the civil service rules, the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, at the annual meeting in Pittsburg last September, authorized the drafting of a bill for this purpose, which is to be presented at the next Congress. The drafting of the new bill was completed in Washington last week, a copy of which was furnished the Associated Press to-day by National Secretary Slusher.

The proposed changes are to be from and after the 1st of July, 1892. The bill authorizes the Postmaster-General to classify and fix the salaries of clerks and employees as provided for in the measure. In first class postoffices the assistant postmaster shall receive fifty per cent of the salary of the postmaster, except at New York; superintendents of mail and superintendents of delivery, forty-five per cent; superintendents of registry and superintendents of money order divisions, forty per cent. The salaries of other employees in this and the second class are then given at length.

At the office of Jay Gould this morning it is denied he is ill.

The Pope is suffering from cerebral aneurys, due to old age. His condition causes grave apprehensions.

Another Officer Shot.

Ex-Constable James Reed of Truckee shot officer Jacob Teeters last evening. Charles Breck, a bystander, was also shot in the head. The trouble between Reed and Teeters was of long standing, and it is said that Reed acted in self defense. He was not arrested.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to return my heartfelt thanks to all those who so kindly rendered their assistance during the illness and subsequent burial of my late wife. I soon expect to follow her and only hope that my friends will be as kind to me as they were to her.

It is ever with new pleasure that we notice the victorious progress of our amiable and successful friend, the American porker. The fortification of every country fair as he approaches, and he now marches in triumph to fresh conquests in Austria, Italy and France. The French were the last to agree to his free admission to their gates, for, their farmers and butchers have a mortal dread of foreign competition. At one time they had even invented a "microscope bridge," so that every piece of pork brought from America might be subjected to inspection, doubtless with the hope of finding the frisky trichina. But now all these things are bygones, and the wild Western pig may roam at his own sweet will.

GERMANY, unlike France, instead of engaging in a foreign canal enterprise is devoting her energies to the construction of a waterway across the Holstein Peninsula from Kiel, the famous naval station, to the mouth of the Elbe. The length of the proposed route is 63 miles and the estimate cost is $50,000,000. It is reported that at least 10,000 men are engaged upon the work, which when completed will obviate a sea voyage of 700 miles. The canal will not only prove of inestimable value to commerce between the North and Baltic seas but of vast strategic importance in the event of war with neighboring powers.

EDWARD ATKINSON, the Boston statistician, shows how men and women may live in an average American city for 14 cents a day. Who wants to live at that figure? We are not a 14-cent people. If we lived on 14 cents a day who would buy goods, and who would be wanted to make them? It is good living that makes Americans good workers and the United States a good market.

RENO promises to boom in the spring. Wm. Thompson has a $100,000 hotel in contemplation, and that in connection with the new road to Lake Tahoe will bring all the trade to the lake this way, which is sure to bring in some outside money. The Reduction Works will be completed and running and good times are sure to come.

Monday Night's Great Laugh.

There will be mirth, music, fun, song and dance at the Opera House on Monday night and all who desire to pass a pleasant evening and exercise dull care, should not fail to be present and witness "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," of which the Philadelphia Ledger says:

"One might as well hope to successfully photograph a laugh as to describe 'Skipped by the Light of the Moon,' or say why it is funny. It simply and sublimely defies analysis. Its sole object is to raise a breeze, and the breeze which has been raised by it has got quite beyond control and grown to an unmanageable magnitude of a cyclone. The most imperturbable nature goes down before it without a show of resistance, and everybody rolls and shakes and laughs."

More Improvements.

The Hon. Wm. Thompson is at the head of a movement to organize a joint stock company for the building of a $100,000 hotel on the grounds now occupied by the Riverside. This in connection with the contemplated direct road to Lake Tahoe, which will be stocked with elegant six-horse Concord coaches, will afford comfort and luxury to pleasure seekers from all parts of the United States and will be a step forward that will redound to the credit of the town.

A STUDY OF NOSES.

Some Observations by a Noted Physiologist.

Last year Prof. Annie Oppenheim went to the military exhibition to study noses, says a London letter to the New York Herald, and then made an examination of the old pensioners in Chelsea. "Every one of them nearly had the prominent part of the nose at the top," she said. "When the nose comes boldly out at that part it is the sign of an aggressive spirit. When it projects more midway it shows a disposition to resent attack or defend friends, but without that spontaneous impulse to combat which you find in the real fighter and which is conspicuous in all the portraits of the distinguished generals or soldiers which one sees."

"You can almost tell a person's character from the nose alone," she remarked. "All great men have great noses. The Greek nose, which has no protuberance, but is straight, argues great sense of aesthetics, of beauty, but no character and no power of contention.

"Large nostrils show courage. People of fearless disposition breathe fully and freely. All the fiercer animals have dilated nostrils. The drooping nostril shows histrionic talent. If the nose also droops it denotes a tragic power, and if only the nostrils the capacity is marked for the interpretation of comedy."

"Where the nose is thin at the bridge it shows generosity, while a nose that is thick at the bridge argues acquisitiveness. When it is tip-tilted like the petal of a flower the person is inquisitive. A projecting nose argues a disposition to investigate. It is ahead of the person, as it were, and wants to see out things."

Prof. Oppenheim delivers a lecture every day at the German exhibition at Earl's court in London. She has published one or two works on her pet science, for, although she has formed her own deductions, they are all based, not on intuition or instinct, but on anatomical principles.

UNSOLD BOOKS.

A Peculiar Crisis Which Is Now Startling French Dealers.

Paris is experiencing just now a curious crisis in the book trade. These days from time to time, for the publishing trade is no more free from over-production or "glut" than any other branch of commerce. There are about a dozen authors who command the French market, and some four or five whose popularity seems inexhaustible. But the number of novelists is to be counted not by dozens, but by hundreds. And still the publishers go on issuing. A few days ago, says the Chicago Herald, the publishers of one of these popular authors had forty-five thousand copies of his last venture returned to him. They were the volumes that had been sent to the different railway stations; there had been scarcely any sale; they all came back. And yet this author was very popular.

The explanation is the prevalent plan of sending works first through the press as feuilletons. The novel had lost its freshness; it was discounted before it was issued. The system is found to tell on the more expensive volumes. Late an art publication, an edition de luxe, magnificently brought out, illustrated with original engravings, liberally announced and generously criticised, came back to the publisher with only one copy sold; a second venture, published at a guinea, obtained a sale of six examples, and then the edition was sold out at one and one-half francs a copy. At present it is understood that there are three million volumes of novels on the hands of Paris publishers which cannot be got rid of. And this number grows from day to day. It was even proposed that these unsaleable volumes should be distributed at country fairs as prizes for children instead of gingerbread or sweets, but that the prefect of police interfered and stopped the practice.

AN ISLAND OF THE DEAD.

Miles of Bare Rocks Covered with Thousands of Human Skeletons.

A party of explorers from Ventura, Cal., recently returned from an expedition to San Nicholas island, which is located seventy miles off the coast of California, opposite Monterey county. The island is twelve miles long and four miles wide. On the east side of the island the party found human bones for a distance of five miles along the beach. They also discovered the remains of hundreds of human bodies upon the higher land half a mile from the beach. In some places two and three skeletons were found together as if they had been buried in the same grave. The wind had blown the soil away, exposing the ghastly relics of some unknown race.

From all appearances, says a San Francisco paper, upward of four or five thousand bodies must have been buried on the island. A crude hut was found on the west side of the island, buried to the roof in sand. The explorers visited the islands with a view to taking up government land. After walking around for two days on a carpet of human bones and bare rocks they concluded not to exhaust their rights on land so valueless. The rocks were entirely destitute of soil, giving the whole island a very desolate appearance.

Cannons on Runners.

In the Austrian army many experiments were made last winter near Krakau in the substitution of snow runners for the ordinary cannon wheels.

Maj. Gen. von Eschenbacher, of the Austrian artillery, now reports that the tests resulted favorably to the innovation.

The wheels of the cannon were made fast with strong brakes and steel runners of a snowshoe pattern were bound with rope to the underside of each.

The cannon were dragged for three hours in snow between nineteen and twenty-nine inches deep and the estimated saving of effort in the transportation was approximately twenty-five percent.

Several drifts more than three feet high were passed without difficulty. On ordinary declines, two men at the muzzle were able to retard the speed of the descent sufficiently.

An "ice-ring" brake served the same purpose on a mountain side. The fitting of a cannon with runners required ten minutes and the removal of them five minutes.

MISCELLANEOUS.California*A Pioneer's Experience With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I am a pioneer in this country, having been here 20 years. Five years ago my little son Harry became blood-poisoned by improper vaccination. His arm swelled terribly, causing great agony; physicians said the arm must be amputated, and even that his recovery would be doubtful. One day I heard about a blood purifier, new to me, and I hurried to get it. It was prepared by C. I. Hood, with whom I used to go to school in Chelsea, Vt. I decided to have my boy try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and was much gratified to find it could help him. He continued to grow better as we gave him the sarsaparilla, and having used bottles is now entirely cured. As Hood's Sarsaparilla has accomplished such wonderful results, I recommend it to all who can." — JAMES M. SLEEVER, Upper Lake, Lake Co., Calif.

The City Treasurer.

Mr. Lowell, Mass., says: "A doctor is from my brother, whom I recognize. I am also glad to testify to the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and to say that C. I. Hood & Co. are considered one of the most reliable firms in New England." — A. R. SLEEVER, City Treasurer, Lowell, Mass.

Women.

The common afflictions of women are sick-head-aches, indigestion and nervous troubles. They arise largely from stomach disorders. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the only bowel regulating preparation, you can see why it is more effective than any other sarsaparilla in those troubles. It is daily relieving hundreds. The action is mild, direct and effective. We have scores of letters from grateful women.

T. MAGILL, Pastor.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—Services at the Baptist Church at 11 A. M. and 7 p. m., Sunday School at 12:15. Morning sermon on "The Spirit of Christ the Soul's Best Protection." Evening subject: "Religion's Claim on the Thinking Man." Everybody welcome.

METHODIST CHURCH.—Next Sabbath at 11:15 A. M. Church in the morning I will talk to the Sabbath school scholars and in the evening will preach on the General Judgment. Those who think they are liable to this awful theme are cordially invited to attend. There will be preaching every night during the week except Saturday night.

JOTTINGS.

A favorite place about meal time is the Riverside Hotel.

Jane Becker's large and elegant saloon was full to overflowing to-day noon. Every rancher in the valley was there to lunch.

The watch that is placed over the people's interests at the polls must not be a repeater. But the watch you buy of Richard Herz is warranted to time and in every other way firstclass.

There is None Better.

Dr. R. L. St. John of Howland, Putnam county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is none better. It is especially valuable for colds and is a preventive and cure for croup. This most excellent medicine is to be had by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

Happy Boosiers.

Wm Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman of some place, says: "Find the Electric Bitter to be the best Liver and Kidney medicine, make just like a nebuchadnezzar." W. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he just new never had a nebuchadnezzar, just like he had a new life. Only $2.00 a bottle at Wm. Flincher's drug store."

What They Are Good For.

Dr. Brath's Pills are the best medicine known.

First—They are purely vegetable, in fact a medicated food.

Second—The same Jose always produces the same effect—other purgatives require increased doses and soon cease acting.

Third—They purify the blood.

Fourth—They invigorate the digestion and cleanse the stomach and bowels.

Fifth—They stimulate the liver and carry off vitiated bile and other depraved secretions.

The first two or three doses tell the story. The skin becomes clear, the eyes bright, and mind active, digestion is restored, constiveness cured, the animal vigor is recruited and all decay arrested.

Brath's Pills are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

A Great Liver Medicine.

Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills are a sure cure for sick headache, bilious complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, torpid liver, etc. These pills insure perfect digestion, correct the liver and stomach, regulate the bowels, purify and invigorate the system. They also produce a good appetite and invigorate and strengthen the entire system in their tonic action. Sold at 25 cents a box by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Hecklin's America Balsam.

The best balsam in the world is this, trunks, sofas, saloons, fenders, sofas, chairs, beds, curtains, and all articles of furniture and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. 17¢ per centa per box. To be had by Wm. Flincher's drug store.

A FLOATING PALACE.

Lorillard's, the Wealthy Tobacco, Magnificent House-Boat.

It is Furnished and Equipped Like a Mansion, and Will be Used for a Long Pleasure Trip.

In a few days Pierre Lorillard, the famous New York millionaire and horseman, will start on a pleasure trip the like of which has never before been attempted in this country on such an elaborate scale.

A couple of weeks ago there was launched from the ship-building yard of Pusey & Jones of Wilmington, Del., one of the queerest looking crafts that has ever floated in American water. It looked like a two-story, substantially built frame house which had somehow forsaken its native soil to be cast adrift on the waters of Chesapeake Bay.

But it did not act a bit like a house afleet, and, in fact, rode the little waves with the grace and ease of a racing yacht. The craft in England would be called a house-boat, and that is what in reality it is. But although house-boats have been in use on the Thames for many years, and are recognized by Englishmen as the ideal means of spending a blissful summer floating lazily about from place to place, there is no craft abroad which approaches in magnificence and size the boat just launched for Mr. Lorillard.

It is in this vessel that Mr. Lorillard, his wife and a couple of guests intend spending the winter in the rivers of Florida, hunting and enjoying the balmy climate of that delightful place to the utmost.

EXPENSIVE AS A CITY HOUSE.

House-boats in England seldom cost more than $1,000. Mr. Lorillard's craft will cost in the neighborhood of $45,000. While it enjoys all the luxuries of the bona fide house-boat, the craft also possesses sea-going qualities and the ability to ride through a heavy gale on the Atlantic.

Some time ago Mr. Lorillard's physician told him that it was necessary for him to live in the open air as much as possible if he wished to retain his that the wash-room and toilet-room of the crew. The center of the craft is occupied by the boiler, fire-room and engine-room of the craft, which form one of the important features of the house-boat.

There are two engines and twin screws. These engines have an aggregate of 200-horse power, and you can force the house-boat along at the rate of nine knots an hour—a very fast rate for a flat-bottomed craft and fair speed even for a yacht.

Just forward of the boiler-room, between the boiler and the servants' dining-room, is a huge ice chest with a capacity of five tons.

CAN COOK A COURSE DINNER.

Some distance aft of the engine-room is the steward's apartments, which are in the port side of the boat. There is a big range with a hot water boiler and all the implements necessary for the preparation of a fine course dinner. Mr. Lorillard is something of an epicure and does not believe in turning a cold shoulder to the good things of life.

Two cooks will be on the craft, and their sleeping quarters are just off the kitchen on the port side. On the starboard side are the sleeping quarters of the deck hands, and the centre of the craft near the stern is given up to the general quarters of the crew.

In the cellar or hold of the boat are two coal bunkers on either side of the boat, each with a carrying capacity of ten tons. Forward of these bunkers are two water tanks, each with a capacity of 2,000 gallons. Beneath the servants' quarters is a large apartment set off the steward's stores, and forward of that is a general storage room. In the after part of the hold are several storage apartments.

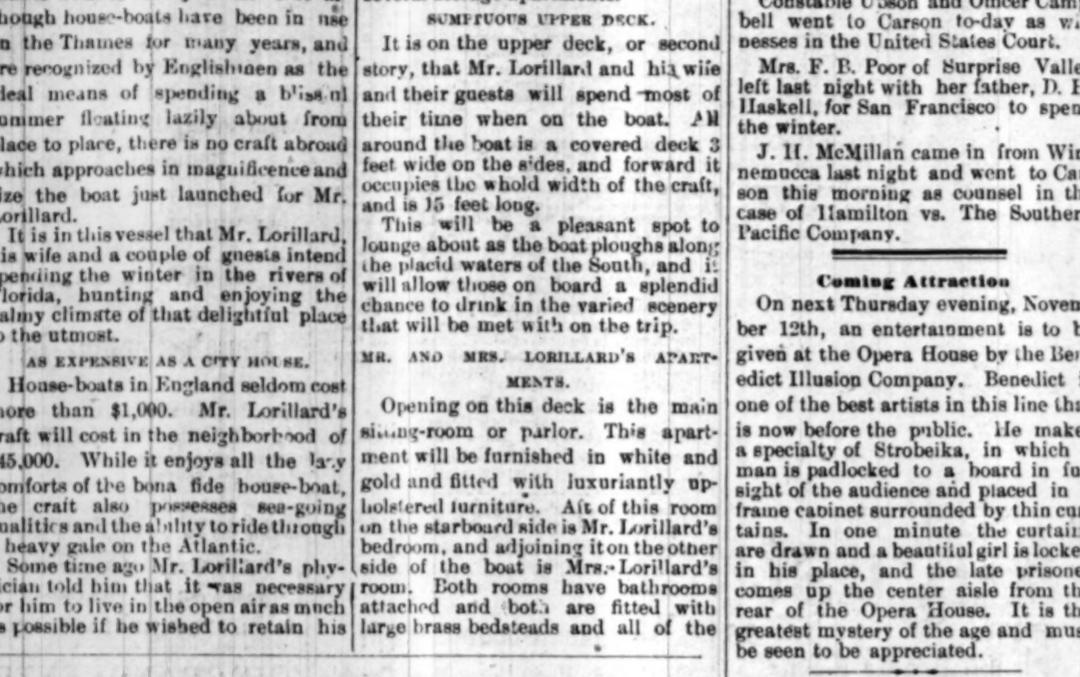

SUMPTUOUS UPPER DECK.

It is on the upper deck, or second story, that Mr. Lorillard and his wife and their guests will spend most of their time when on the boat. All around the boat is a covered deck 3 feet wide on the sides, and forward it occupies the width of the craft, and is 15 feet long.

This will be a pleasant spot to lounge about as the boat ploughs along the placid waters of the South, and it will allow those on board a splendid chance to drink in the varied scenery that will be met with on the trip.

MR. AND MRS. LORILLARD'S APARTMENTS.

Opening on this deck is the main sitting-room or parlor. This apartment will be furnished in white and gold and fitted with luxuriously upholstered furniture. All of this room on the starboard side is Mr. Lorillard's bedroom, and adjoining it on the other side of the boat is Mrs. Lorillard's room. Both rooms have bathrooms attached and both are fitted with large brass bedsteads and all of the furnishings of an expensively equipped sleeping apartment.

MR. LORILLARD'S NEW HOUSE-BOAT—Plan of Upper Deck.

An electric bell connects Mr. Lorillard's room with that of his valet, and bells connect Mrs. Lorillard's apartment with those of the two maids and the kitchens. Dressing-rooms also adjoin the sleeping apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard.

The smokestack and upper machinery work occupies the midship section of the upper deck. Aft of this are two bedrooms fitted with bathing apartments which are for the use of the guests. They are furnished and equipped similar to those of Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard.

A BATHFUL ROOM.

Ait of the guests' rooms is the dining-room, which is really the finest apartment in the ship. It is 15 feet and 6 inches wide and 17 feet 6 inches in length. Half of it will be of glass, so that when the party are at dinner they can watch the scenery as well as if they were on deck.

The boat has been christened Calmar, which is the Spanish for alligator, a very appropriate name.

Mr. Lorillard was at a loss to know how to congenitally employ his time out of doors in winter until he hit upon the idea of a house-boat to be used for cruising purposes in Florida waters.

The result of the idea was that he sketched out with his own hand the plan of the kind of a house-boat he wanted. Mr. Lorillard is a skillful draughtsman, and the result of his drawing has materialized into the finest and largest house-boat in the world.

GOOD FOR SHALLOW WATER.

The boat is 96 feet long, 24 feet 6 inches wide, and has a draught of but 30 inches. The extremely light draught is to enable the craft to penetrate even the smallest rivers and streams in Florida, and so that shallow water will be no impediment to the progress of the party. The hull of the boat has a depth of 6 feet 6 inches. On this foundation is built the two upper stories.

As is shown in the accompanying cut of the craft, the first story takes up the entire length and breadth of the hull. This floor will be devoted to the use of the servants and the crew.

A OLD FUD.

That has been annoying the community for generations, has at last been happily settled. Cephaline, the greatest headache remedy is in, and trouble ceased. Your druggist has it.

SHILTON'S COUGH AND CONSUMPTION CURE.

These wafers are for the relief and cure of painful and irregular menses, and all diseases of the womb, no matter what the cause, and are safe and safe every time. Manufactured by Emerson Drug Co., San Jose, Cal., and for sale only by William Flincher.

DISEASER'S FAILURE!

It is with feelings of regret that we announce the failure of hosts of people troubled with inaction of the kidneys to take sufficient means to renew their activity.

This failure is most disastrous, for a complete wreck of the organs themselves cannot be re-established by mere exercise.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters renew both, and prevents ultimate and fatal disaster. As it is one of the blood poisons of kidneys it acts from the blood, and its properties are impurities of droppings, rheumatism and gout, as early impurities of all the more serious diseases to be given to the body, and tardy recovery.

The uneducated at first of commerce do not answer this purpose. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and biliousness.

THE MOTIVE POWDER.

Art of the valet's room on the starboard side is the store-room and aft of the rooms of the second engineer and of the fireman.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A STRANGE DUEL

Fought in the Parlor of a Physician's Home.

The Man of Medicine Engages in a Deadly Battle with a Soldier During the Absence of His Family.

There is a gentleman in Milwaukee who tells a story that savor more of the days of George III. than of the practical nineteenth century. His name cannot be given, says the Chicago Times, but were it known his tale, romantic as it is, would be accepted without question, as he is well known and respected. Early in August, he said, two residents of Chicago met at a club.
They were Dr. Lee, formerly of the United States service, and Lieut. Fairchild, still wears army blue. During the evening they quarreled. What brought on the quarrel is not known.
It might have been a dispute over a trifling matter, that developed into something worse, or it might have been a difference over a social game of cards.
The quarrel was apparent enough—too much so—and friends parted them.

The next day Lieut. Fairchild, not very much to his surprise, received a challenge. He was a soldier and brave.
His reply was prompt. He accepted and named his friend. As to a place, that was more difficult. Dr. Lee offered his own home. Lieut. Fairchild, with chivalric confidence, accepted the proposition.
It was agreed that the weapons should be German swords, such as are used in the famous university duels, long straight steel blades sharpened to the keenness of a razor for three inches from the point and dull the remainder.

The two principals, with one second and a gentleman who had been selected as referee, met in the parlor of the physician's home. There had been another second selected, but at the last moment he showed the white feather.
However it was decided the fight should go on without him.

Dr. Lee had sent his family away on a visit, which gave the duelists a clear field. The furniture was removed from the parlor, leaving the good-sized room clear of everything but the carpet. Little time was spent in preliminaries, and as the steely clocks were hurrying on toward the midnight hour the two antagonists faced each other in shirt and trousers, while on either side stood the two witnesses, each with sword in hand. For a moment after they had bowed to each other courteously the two duelists stood facing each other waiting. Then low but sharp and clear came the words: "Ready, go." The bright steel blades flashed and met with a wicked clang that sent the sparks flying. In the eyes of both flashed the fires of hate and battle.

One minute, two, a touch, the swords were lowered reluctantly. Again the blades hissed as they coiled about each other trying to reach the flesh beyond.
The duelists were well matched. Outside of its possible tragical outcome it was a pretty fight. So say the witnesses.
The men struggled and fought like villains of old, with no advantage to either.
A half hour passed. Hot and sweaty, the duelists tried every skill of bludgeon, every known device, to get into the other's guard, to no effect. But this could not last forever. Dr. Lee made a sharp attack. His long sword leaped over the guard of his antagonist
and the next second a big crimson spot dyed the sleeve of Lieut. Fairchild. The wounds were fair and an examination made. "A mere scratch," said the wounded man, and he insisted on going on with the fight.

His insistence left nothing but to go ahead. The sword of the physician had passed through the fleshy part of the upper portion of the arm. The wound was bound up and the duelists again took their places. Now the lieutenant fought more cautiously and stood more on his defense. His opponent, rendered confident by success, attacked savagely.
Round and round the apartment, now
spattered with blood, the two contestants went, cutting, thrusting, parrying, until suddenly the lieutenant's sword glided under the physician's arm and a bright red spot appeared on the breast.

Another half, but the wounded man,
as his opponent had done before him, insisted on proceeding. The end was approaching.

Plastered with loss of blood the physician failed in his guard and again the line of steel sprang forth, and this time when it came back, after it poured a crimson torrent. That ended the fight.

The witnesses declared bruised honor amply bathed in blood. The duelists agreed and shook hands as gentlemen should. The physician bound up both his own and his antagonist's wounds, sentent for a case of champagne, and in the sparkling now the two former antagonists swore renewed friendship.
Both were laid up for a few days, but convenient excuses were found for the care with which the lieutenant used his arm and the physician protected his hand until the physicians pronounced them well.

The parlor was cleaned and furniture restored long before the return of the family, and they never knew so ghastly
a thing as a duel had occurred there.
No one did anyone outside of the four persons who were present until now.

The charitable Poor.

That the poor are good to one another is the silent testimony of the race of beggars. Many of the cross streets up town through which throngs of working people pass to and from their work, see the New York Sun, are infested with beggars in the early morning and evening hours, and to an incredible extent.
These birds of prey, who are for the most part blotted, ranged women whose tatters are redundant of whidly, place themselves close to the stoop of some respectable dwelling house, and, clutching against the rail, hold out a grimy hand which suggests rather than asks a gift. Young girls going to their work are moved to compassion, and men feel a superstitious repulsion to passing an old woman in want, and so these cold, hopeless wifes of humanity find it profitable to haunt the places
through which the tide of daily labor ebb and flows most swiftly. In the matter of charity, the practical difference seems to be that the rich subscribe to charitable societies, the poor give to those poorer than themselves.
But the poor give from their poverty.

CALIFORNIA'S COYOTE LAW.

Evil Results of a Measure for the Benefit of Sheep Owners.

California's coyote bounty law which was passed last winter for the benefit of the sheep owners, and which went into operation in May, is operating in a manner that is filling the tax payers and the fruit growers of the state with alarm, says the New York Evening Post.
It provides that for each coyote killed $5 shall be paid out of the state treasury to the person presenting the skull to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each county. Although only several of fifty-four counties in the state have been heard from the claims for bounty aggregated July 1st $10,990. A bounty bill in Tulare county which has not yet reported has notified the state controller that it holds claims for $4,300. By all these claims based on the skins of coyotes killed in California
the entire world will not be so soundless. But it has been learned that enterprising Californians are importing scalps from Arizona, New Mexico and Lower California. A customs inspector on the lookout for Chinese on the Mexican frontier recently seized a package of 20 coyote skins that the owner was trying to smuggle into the state. It is learned furthermore that the bounty bill called exists.
